This drama-comedy-musical review is based on the great American entertainer and humanitarian Harry Belafonte and gives a historical context for his life and his place in mainstream music.

With wonderful dialogue, timeless songs and strong educational value, the show has been performed for sold out houses and has received frequent standing ovations. This musical drama-comedy stars actor/writer Candi Sterling, actor/voice over artist Evelyn Clarke and Michael Monasterial as Harry Belafonte.

This April 2010 production is produced by the Performing Arts of Woodstock (PAW). PAW has been producing the finest local theater for over 40 years and has invited Passing the Torch Through the Arts because of the shared commitment to communities and dedication to enhancing the quality of life through theater for all generations and cultures in the Hudson Valley.*

The historic Rosendale Theater will host Passing the Torch Through the Arts for the joint fundraiser

Night and Day-Two sides of Passion: An Evening of Original Theatre

8:00 p.m.
Rosendale Theater
408 Main Street
Rosendale, NY 12472.

The suggested donation is $10.00 and all contributions are tax-deductable.

This program will feature the finest local actors and writers for one night of great entertainment for a good cause: the survival of the arts. Dedicated to keeping their similar visions alive, the two organizations are collaborating on the creation of this event to provide substantial funding for the Rosendale Theatre and Passing the Torch Through the Arts.
