Passing the Torch Through the Arts

The Faces of Passing the Torch Through the Arts

These are young actors that attended of first lab in 09 at the Howland

We continue to be the only
Multicultural, multi-generational theatre in the Hudson Valley

Passing the Torch proudly announces...
Our new Actor /Playwrights Lab

About the Luminary Award event:

The sold out event at the Rosendale Theater was a great sucess

All Generations, ages and cultures enjoyed the walk through history and to honor the impressive list of honorees.

The icing on the cake to me was when Pete Seeger showed up unannounced.

It was a dream night of us and inpired us to go on another year!

"Works in Progress"

The New Playwright/ Actor workshop at the Howland

If you are an Aspiring actor, a local professional, or just someone that is curious about the art form. If you are a published playwright, or an absolute beginner and interested in writing for the stage. Maybe you're just a local theater artist that wants to network and keep up with the pulse of the Beacon theater scene... this monthly lab has something for you!

The second Saturday of every month Passing the Torch will present the Hudson Valley's best up and coming playwrights as they develop their works for future productions. Great local actors will read these works. It makes a great evening of compelling entertainment.

There will be a wide variety of plays from Dramas to Musicals, and the selection will be based on the theme of the Month.

March is St Patty's Day and International

Join Our Mailing List!

Woman's Month so we showcase two local woman playwrights presenting their work.

Anna Mione's "The Tea Party"

A unique look at history from a modern perspective about and then including Abigail Adams.

Deidra Dowling's "The Dray Horse"

A family drama, set in Ireland, is about a young man that is sold into service by his impoverished family.

*Be part of the Creative process as the audience is invited to offer helpful and positive critique to give the writer some perspective. The lab schedule will be the same every month:

6 to 8pm the lab portion where playwrights and actors are given time to present a manageable portion of their work that is in development to get some feedback and perhaps some insight from another artists point of view.

8 to 9:30pm will be performances with more completed works and established playwrights and seasoned actors. This offers the aspiring artists something to strive for and to see firsthand what how far the art form can be elevated.

Saturday March 12th

The Howland Cultural Center 477 main st Beacon NY 12508

$5.00 for the Lab. $10.00 for the reading. $12.00 for both.

(this is to pay our performers and keep the Howland's lights on)
